The Evidence Collection Process – An Introduction

Social Security and its state-partner Disability Determination Services (DDS) rely on medical evidence to determine eligibility for Social Security disability programs. This session will introduce the types and formats of evidence and describe the roles and responsibilities of those involved in its collection.

Bob Joondeph, Chair, Social Security Advisory Board
(moderator)

The Social Security Advisory Board is committed to ensuring that its meetings are accessible. Please contact events@ssab.gov as soon as possible, but at least three business days in advance of the meeting to request a reasonable accommodation.

1:30 – 2:15 pm

State Approaches to Collecting Evidence

Social Security defines the acceptable forms and sources of medical evidence and supports different technologies that facilitate collection. COVID presented each state with unique challenges, as health care service provision was altered during the pandemic. This session will highlight strategies to improve the process.

Kim Hildred, Member, Social Security Advisory Board
